What I Did on My Summer Vacation

DKC Members Travel to the All Star Championships

Several Durham Kennel Club members and area dog trainers recently traveled with their dogs to York, PA, to participate in the All Star Performance Dog Association's 2010 Obedience, Agility and Rally Championships held August 6-8. Competing dog and handler teams from the DKC area, in alphabetical order, include: Hannah Branigan and Belgian Tervuren Gambit; Laura Boyce and Lowchen Pree; Michele Godlevski and Border Collies Choctaw, Cree and Zuni; Don Roback and Lowchen J; and Sue Vickery and Border Collie Blair. DKC member Vicky Brown was one of the Obedience and Rally judges for the tournament. A fun and successful time was had by all and DKC was well represented on both sides of the clipboard.

Many of the competing DKC members earned placements in the coveted Top Ten in their respective divisions of Obedience, Rally or Agility. Obedience placements went to Laura Boyce and Pree with a Fifth Place in Open and Hannah Branigan and Gambit with a Seventh Place in Open. Rally placements went to Sue Vickery and Blair with a Seventh Place in Rally Novice and Hannah Branigan and Gambit with a Third Place in Rally Advanced. An Agility placement went to Michele Godlevski and Cree with a Third Place in the 20" class.

Competition wasn't limited to the tournament rounds since the dogs and handlers participated in the Games portion of the event. Michele's Zuni laid down the fastest time in Tunnelers while Sue and Blair had the fastest course time in the Ultimate Rally Challenge (a course consisting of all 52 rally signs). Don and J teamed up with two Border Collies on their Obedience team named Rebel Yelp. Hannah's Gambit was the star of their Relay Retrieve Team called the Non-Stumpies during the Obedience Games portion of the tournament. Sue's Blair literally lit the ring on fire flying across the ring and back to fetch her dumbbell during the same Relay Retrieve Obedience games as part of the team called The North Jersey Girls.

Judge Vicky Brown presents Hannah Branigan (both DKC members) with her Rally placement rosette, trophy and gift certificate during the Awards Ceremony.

September Meeting

The next meeting of the DKC membership will take place on Monday, September 20, 2010. Do plan to attend and bring a dish for our potluck dinner.

Dinner will be served at 7:00 pm. Bring a friend at 7:00 and furry friends are welcome at 7:30 pm.

Program: Penny Lee from the AKC will be our guest speaker at the meeting and will give the club an update on the Canine Partners Program for Mixed Breeds. Please give her a warm DKC welcome..

For Hannah and Laura, this was their first All Star tournament and both competed in multiple venues, Hannah in Obedience and Rally and Laura in Obedience and Agility. Hannah described being impressed by the entire six ring tournament style rings set up for obedience and rally, and the professionalism of the host organization and fellow competitors. Hannah was very proud of Gambit's six performances: three rounds of Obedience followed by three rounds of Rally over a period of three days. Hannah and Gambit could not be reached for comment for this article since they were busy polishing Gambit's trophies. Hannah did let us know, however, that she had a fantastic time at All Star and is already looking forward to the next one. Gambit was pleased with himself and looked dapper sporting his new souvenir magic coat.

Wherever Laura and Pree went at All Star, their best fan, Emmett Wiggins, was not far behind supporting his favorite team. At times, he was even seen wearing his infamous 'Pree' t-shirt. Laura's decision to enter All Star was partly the result of some DKC members who indicated to her just how much fun she and Pree would have there. Laura seemed to thoroughly enjoy the exhibitor-friendly atmosphere at the tournament. She competed in both Obedience and Agility and not only met, but exceeded, the goals she set for herself that weekend, thereby making it an extremely successful event for Pree and her. Most of all, she indicated what a great time she had at All Star and can't wait for the next one! Laura and Emmett had a wonderful time at the tournament.

For Don and J, this was an opportunity for them to compete in both Agility and Super Star Obedience. The Super Star class entailed exhibiting in three rounds on Friday followed by two rounds on Saturday morning then culminating with one round of Super Star Stays. By Saturday afternoon, they had switched gears and were running agility and finished up their agility runs on Sunday morning, making for an activity packed three days of competition. Don enjoyed his time at All Star so much that he approached the President of the All Star Performance Dog Association in hopes of bringing the tournament to the Southeast on alternate years. (All Star holds their tournament in the Northeast every two years.)

Michele, who has competed in previous All Star tournaments, had this to say about her experience: "I've competed at All Stars in Rally and Agility for about 4 go-rounds of it. The trophies are very nice, the ribbons are grand, and the courses are always very creative, since they don't have to adhere to any organization's rules. The judges are very relaxed and competitor-friendly. I like that they offer things like a tunnelers warm up round and the 60 weave pole challenge. This year

Cree got 3rd place in 20" agility and won $100!" Agility was held indoors, in the air conditioning, on sod which was brought in just for All Star Agility. Michele could be seen with one of her Border Collies at any given time in the Agility wing of the building either checking out the vendor booths, looking at the action shots at the photographer's booth or spending time with her dogs. Michele had a very nice time at All Star and if the past is any indicator of the future, no doubt Michele will attend future All Stars as well. She enjoyed her time there.

Sue and Blair had a fabulous time at All Star. "It was wonderful seeing my former instructors and training friends from NJ again at the tournament. The people running the tournament made it incredibly exhibitor-friendly and couldn't have been more hospitable or welcoming to all of us. From the banquet to the silent auction to the goodie bags to the games to the actual competition, it was non-stop fun. I had a fantastic time. In fact, this was the most fun I've ever had at a dog shows and can't wait to go again." Although this was Blair's first All Star, this was Sue's fourth.

All Star exhibitors were there competing simply for the love of the sport. There were no legs to be earned, titles to be won or AKC points to be gained, yet people were competing because they love the game. It was not unusual for fellow competitors to applaud after each run, nor was it unusual for strangers to strike up a conversation with each other ringside or in the crating area wishing each other the best of luck. The camaraderie amongst the competitors only served to reinforce the entire exhibitor friendly ambiance at the tournament. The Judges were all volunteers and genuinely wanted teams to be successful.

Beautiful large rosettes, star trophies, embroidered chairs and gift certificates are among some of the prizes and the Top Ten placements in each division can usually find their pictures appearing in a later issue of Front & Finish and on the All Star website: www.allstardogs.org

There has been some preliminary discussion regarding the possibility of the All Star Championship tournament being held in the Southeast in the future. While no plans have been formalized as of yet, should it occur, it would be a wonderful opportunity for more DKC members to exhibit since it would be closer to home and enjoy the same amount of fun these DKC members did this past summer in York, PA, at All Star.

Congratulations again to all the DKC teams who participated in this year's All Star! Hopefully, many more DKC teams will opt to participate in the future and join in the fun.

Sailorbear's Sea Mist, CD, RN, WRD, DD, TDI

February 6, 2000 – June 13, 2010

After a few days of fighting symptoms at the ER that the vets couldn't diagnose, my precious Misty's heart gave out shortly after I last visited her. I was hoping they could determine what was wrong and be able to treat her, but in the end there was too much going on. As she'd never been kenneled, it's hard to know that she was without family at the end.

The rule of thumb with Newfs is that we're lucky to get them to 10 and I am thankful for our time together. She was crazy in her youth and became a sweet elder stateswoman. She was a supreme water dog and her favorite exercise was jumping off the boat. I hope she's now jumping off of every boat she can find! Even though she wasn't swimming too much this spring, she was still so excited to go to the lake every week and enjoyed wading, treats, and just being with her family.

There are no words to truly express what she's meant to me. I hope she knew how very much we loved her and the utter joy she's brought to my life. What I've learned from her can never be measured. And all her kisses have been priceless. She adored her Gwen and they are now together again.

Our mantra: Mommy loves you, Mistykins – to the moon and beyond, little one – to the moon and beyond, munchkin.

New Rules in Agility

These new rules went into effect on 9/1/2010:

- Specialties can hold events concurrently with all-breed trials using the same judge as long as the all-breed trial excludes the breed(s) in the specialty and both events keep separate records.
- Clubs can now submit their premiums electronically.
- Clubs may now offer a wait list that can be filled after closing.
- Clubs may now place entry limits on specific classes/judges/sets of classes (not by number of total runs/day).
- Less tolerance and more information on aggressive and menacing dogs in and out of the ring.
- -A-Frame set to 5'0" for 4" and 8" jump heights.
- Dogwalk up contacts are no longer judged.
- Teeters must be calibrated prior to the start of every trial - clubs are responsible for having calibration materials.
- Table behavior is now positionless. Table count begins as soon as four paws are on the table.
- Dogs must restart weaves at pole one (can't fix pop-outs in the middle of the poles) and limited to three attempts.
- During windy weather a panel jump can now be replaced by a bar jump.
- Tire heights now are 4" lower than the standard height. 24" dogs will jump a 20" tire. No word on the 4" preferred tire height.
- Changes in YPS requirement (slower pace) for the 8" and 24" dogs - in Standard and JWW. This means both the 8" and 24" dogs get more course time.
- Handlers may now reattempt contact obstacles (and the chute) if a dog falls off. After the one reattempt the dog will be excused.

The document with all changes is here: http://www.akc.org/pdfs/about/board_minutes/0510.pdf

Help with Kitchen Inventory

Anyone scheduling a DKC event (seminars, meetings, trials, luncheons, etc.), please check the kitchen inventory before purchasing additional supplies. There are numerous containers of cremora, sugars, salad dressings, assorted plates, cups etc. During a recent refrigerator/freezer clean-out, I needed to dispose of two large garbage bags of partially used expired items.

If any of the items left are for your personal use, please include your full name and date. Also, if there are items that can be used by any DKC member, please indicate that, along with your name and date and whether the items are for humans or pets, as it is sometimes difficult to know.

Thanks for your help.

Who Gets the Dog?

(Reprinted with permission of the GSPCA, Inc. and Editor of Shorthair Journal; originally printed in the 2008 March/April issue of Shorthair Journal.) Our family recently experienced the loss of one of our dogs. She was sixteen and fortunately lived a relatively healthy life. Though we have another GSP five years of age we are left with the question, "Will we outlive another dog if we decide to get a puppy and it has the longevity our dogs to date have experienced?" In discussing this with friends and acquaintances I've found most don't like to think about the "what if," they just want to enjoy their dogs.

The purpose of my article is to hopefully provide that gentle nudge for those that have been thinking about the "what if" as it concerns their dogs. Consider if for no other reason it will help those that may suddenly find themselves in the situation of having to make a decision as to what you may or may not have wanted done. Don't assume those around you know what you want as they may have a totally different perspective based on what has been said over the years.

We all travel and when we get ready for that trip to go hunting, to a dog show or to visit relatives or friends, we make plans. If you're the type to grab a few clothes and other items only to find you forgot the shirt that goes with those pants or your toothbrush, I would hope you would put a bit more thought into what might happen to your dogs.

Those of us with dogs registered with the American Kennel Club are required to keep records on all of our dogs and a permanent means by which to identify them. Now days most will have microchips and DNA numbers. I've no doubt there are many that keep records on their computers or by some other electronic means. While you may be computer literate, the person in the position to locate those files may not have the same skills or the "password" to get into your computer. With today's digital cameras it would not be that difficult to have a hard copy picture of each dog with its microchip and AKC registration number written on it.

For those individuals that have worked hard over the years to establish a "kennel name" and breeding program, it is important to have your desires known as it pertains to your dogs and kennel name. While you may have complete knowledge of your dog's strengths and weakness, someone else may not. In this day and age it is important to consider that the first person to the kennel may not be a trusted friend or family member, but the local authorities. Once dogs go into a legal system it can be very difficult and expensive to get them out. We all carry identification cards of some type. It would be just as easy to carry a card that lets people know you have animals and who to contact as soon as possible to take care of them or, if need be, to take possession of them. Be sure they have a current legal document to present to that effect should the occasion arise. Often times it is the short-term care duration that is overlooked, yet this can be the most critical stage of making sure your animals get to the correct individuals that will ultimately provide for their long-term care.

Be brutally honest about family members being considered to take the dogs. We love our children, but neither of them because of their life style would be able to provide the type of home sporting dogs need should something happen to us. Both have young families and their chosen professions require periodic moves with the potential to live in foreign countries. It is highly recommended that you discuss with your immediate family why you have chosen to make the plans you have because they may have strong emotional feelings that you are unaware of about one or more of the family pets.

Registering a dog with AKC may not necessarily constitute legal ownership of the dog. It simply means at the time the dog was registered one or more names were put down as the "owner(s) of record." This brings to mind co-ownerships. What if the individual with whom the animal lives becomes incapacitated and/or dies with no directives written? Would the other owner/co-owner(s) listed if not an immediate family member have legal rights to the dog?

As animal rights activists push for more restrictive local and state legislation, animals in some states soon may not be considered "property" subject to the legal progression of being passed through one's estate to the next of kin or designated beneficiaries. Once an animal is no longer considered property it opens the door for all types of legal implications.

In 1990 the Uniform Probate Code (UPC) began to recognize trusts for pets and its relevant sections were amended in 1993, with the Uniform Trust Code (UTC) section for pet trust provisions adopted in 2000. Gerry W. Beyer, Professor of Law at Texas Tech University, has a very comprehensive and current updated website with a list of the States with pet trust statues as well as FAQ about Pet Trust: <http://www.professorbeyer.com/>

For more information one can enter "pet trust" on a internet search engine, but it is important to remember that these lists are designed to provide information and should not be considered as “legal advice.” For any legal documents one should contact an attorney licensed to practice in the state in which they and/or the dog resides. It is also important to remember that not all states have a provision for pet trust to be legal or enforceable.

As it pertains to any legal document, you may know exactly what is meant by “it is my desire to have my dog kept in the same manner to which it has become accustomed,” but unless those desires are specified, your statement could be open to interpretation by those designated to care for the dog. Also, it is important to remember to keep any legal document(s) updated because the dog(s) owned at the time a document is written may not be the same ones owned when the individual dies or becomes incapacitated.

Determining the amount of money to provide for the life of the animal may depend on the age of the animal and its health issues. Even young dogs may have health problems that require specific medication given over the period of their lifetime. How assets are to be used and what is to be done with any remaining assets upon its death should be clearly stated and not left to the courts or their designee to decide. The same considerations should be given to euthanasia should that become an issue. Not everyone is cut out to make this type of decision should it arise.

We often think that estate planning is for individuals other than ourselves; nothing could be further from the case. If you own anything, you have an estate and your animals are part of that estate. Information about estate planning for pets can be found at the following url: <http://estateplanningforpets.org/> If nothing else, it provides for thought-provoking reading and once again it should be mentioned these sites are for informational purposes only and not to be used as legal advice.

If this is all a bit much to think about or you just can’t get your hands around the legal mumbo jumbo, the least you can do is put together an information packet kept in a weatherproof container with large print that reads, “TO BE OPENED IN CASE OF AN EMERGENCY.” If traveling you might want to note a time frame within which you don’t return, the packet is to be opened. The individual(s) named on the “emergency card” you have with you most likely would be the same ones taking care of your animals. If not, that person should also have the name(s) of those you have designated to contact in the event of an emergency. If the individuals designated to take care of the animals aren’t family member,s it is very important for them to know and understand why you’ve designated someone else to have them and to be responsible for the animal’s care.

Along with the contact information should be a brief summary of what is to be done with each animal. The most important thing is to make sure each one is identified with a picture and a permanent means of identification. If it is a microchip, hopefully that contact information has been kept updated if there have been any changes since the animal was first registered. Keep copies of vaccinations, health clearances, vet contacts as you may have arranged for specific treatments to continue for animals with special health needs. Last but not least, there should be a document that indicates where the complete file for each dog is located, and if on a computer, the means by which that information can be accessed. If you have made arrangements to cover the interim cost for anything, it is important those funds not be tied up for any reason, legal or otherwise.

Responsible breeders screen their prospective puppy buyers to assure their pups will be in the best homes possible and stand behind the dogs they’ve produced. They work hard to develop their kennel names and breeding programs. Individuals who buy pups, adopt the rescue dog and/or give the older gray-faced ones a comfortable place to spend their twilight years are just starting down the road. Now all we have to do is think about what lies ahead or waits at the other end. Maybe it’s time to “GET ER DONE” and not leave to chance what might happen to our dog(s).

*The great pleasure of a dog is that you may make a fool
of yourself with him,
and not only will he not scold you,
but he will make a fool of himself, too.*

DKC Meeting Minutes: May 17, 2010

- Program: "Injury Prevention and Conditioning" delivered by Dr Kevin Jones, DVM, CCRP of Animal Rehabilitation Clinic, Durham, NC spoke to attendees about warm-ups, stretches, cool downs, conditioning your dogs during development phases along with endurance training and proprioception training, the off-season, and what their clinic has to offer in rehabilitation and evaluation.
- Meeting called to order: 8:16pm.
- Corresponding Secretary: no report
- Treasurer's Report: Roger Akers reported account figures and informed us we have no outstanding debts.
- Spring Show: AKC is increasing judge's fees paid to AKC, which may filter down to the clubs.
- Fall Show: Volunteers are needed. Judges are in place. If you sign up to volunteer with Cathy before July 30th you'll be invited to the "Party Planning session" at the pool, with food and drink.
- Breeder Referral: Business as usual.
- Yard Sale: June 26th. Set up and drop off ½ day Thursday, all day 8a-9p (?) Friday. Save those good working electrical items and please clean stuff for the yard sale. No clothing please. Books, dog items, kitchen supplies, children's items, etc.
- Agility trial: Fall trial is October 1-3, 2010, in Rougemont.
- Obedience and Rally Trial: Show and Go August 28th at the new site!!!
 - Did we mention, New Site!! Our goal is to cover and clear (hope) costs by holding our Rally and Obedience trial simultaneously (our first attempt). A discussion was held on the reasons for moving to the new venue. Most reasons dealt with our trial running late in the evening making it difficult to find and best utilize volunteers, limiting the entries for Rally, and the problems associated with cramped quarters if the weather is bad.
- Obedience classes: Start in June. Utility and Pet therapy are full. Most others have some space as of the meeting.
- Agility classes: Spring session is now over and no classes over summer.
- Conformation classes: Continuing at present, most likely some sort of break over the summer.
- AKC Delegate report: no report
- Seminars: See website for our new "mini-sessions" and other upcoming events.
- Parties: See Fall Show.
- Newsletter: Was emailed day of meeting; acceptance of minutes postponed.
- Membership Report: Requests for membership:
 - 2 Candidate Members: Brian & Seema Sturkie, and Cathy Whitaker;
 - 1 family for Full Membership: Bernard Haggerty & Susan Baldrige.
- Other business:
 - Election night: All Officers and Board Members were unanimously accepted.
 - When selling equipment out of the closet, please make sure the leashes are not hanging out of the bottom getting damaged.
 - DKC will be purchasing some Obedience equipment for the upcoming show and to replace worn out items: unpainted ring gates, stanchions, jumps (2 high, 1 bar, 1 broad), white and blue ring gates.
 - Discussion held about a mirror/reflective surface to cover more of the wall for conformation and obedience practice. Chuck Adams to possibly investigate materials and costs.
- Board meeting followed regular meeting to set up their June meeting date.

Adjourned at: 8:55pm.

-- Amanda Stipe, Interim Recording Secretary

Proposed Members, September 2010 Meeting

Candidate Membership: Penny Anders, Mary Ann and Melissa McBride, Caroline Nibloch and Celie B. Richardson will be read in.

Full Membership: Vicki Barringer and Cathy Raver will be voted on.

AKC Responsible Dog Owners Day

The annual AKC Responsible Dog Owners Day event is being held at the State fairgrounds on Saturday, September 25th, 10am-2pm. There will be demos, Meet The Breed area and CGC testing. The building is always filled with great vendors.

DKC attends every year, we have a table where we give out club and class info, our members are always active in the Meet The Breeds area, and we always are well-represented in the demos as well. If you would be interested in attending, showing off your dogs with the public and/or doing agility, obedience or Rally demos for the public, please let me know.

Any Artists Out There?

New York, NY (May 20, 2010) — The American Kennel Club® and Eukanuba are pleased to announce the start of the commemorative poster competition in which artists are encouraged to submit an original two-dimensional painting or drawing celebrating the theme: "The Wonderful World of Purebred Dogs." The poster will commemorate the 10th Annual AKC/Eukanuba National Championship.

The theme of the artwork may focus on various subject matters, including: AKC events, the name of the event, the bond between humans and canines, purebred puppies, or the setting for this year's event, and must depict multiple breeds.

The deadline for submissions is October 15, 2010, for online and postmarked mail-in entries. An expert panel will select ten finalists, with the grand prize winner chosen from among those finalists.

The grand prize winning artist will receive $1,000 and a three-day/two-night trip (including airfare and hotel) to the AKC/Eukanuba National Championship. The winning artwork will be sold at the AKC/Eukanuba National Championship as a commemorative poster. Proceeds from the sale will be donated to Take the Lead, a 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization that provides support, care, and services for people in the sport of purebred dogs who suffer the devastation of a life-threatening or terminal illness.

To obtain a copy of the official rules visit, <http://www.akc.org/posterrules> or send a self addressed stamped envelope to AKC/Eukanuba National Championship Poster Competition, Official Rules, The American Kennel Club, 260 Madison Avenue, New York, New York, 10016.

All Breed Fun Match

The Dog Training Club of Durham is putting on an All Breed Fun Match on October 30 at the Durham Kennel Club Building (see page 8). This is a fund raiser, so we welcome any ideas on ways to improve the volume of funds we raise. Sharon Pitz(sharon.pitz@verizon.net) is looking for people to help sell food. Susan Cicone (shc@nc.rr.com) is recruiting folks to help with set-up, registration, stewarding, and clean-up. Don't be bashful -- volunteers are very welcome!
